Workplace Religious Holiday Accommodation

CUSTOMIZABLE EMPLOYEE LETTER TEMPLATE

Replace all bracketed text before sending. This template is a starting point for a respectful accommodation request, not an official religious certification or legal opinion.

[Date]

Dear [Supervisor / HR contact],

I would like to discuss a scheduling accommodation related to my observance of [Jewish holiday / weekly Shabbos]. My religious practice will prevent me from working during [specific dates, times, or recurring period].

I am giving advance notice so we can plan around my responsibilities. I would appreciate discussing an arrangement such as [approved leave / shift adjustment / alternate scheduling / another workable option], consistent with the requirements of my role.

I am available to discuss how to maintain coverage and meet essential responsibilities. Please let me know whether there is a company process or form I should complete.

Thank you for considering my request.

Sincerely,

[Your name]

[Job title / department, if useful]

Before you send

- Verify the exact dates and local start/end times of your observance.
- Review your employer's accommodation and leave policies and submit requests as early as practical.
- Choose only alternatives you can genuinely accommodate; you need not propose a solution that conflicts with your observance.
